

Daniel Sánchez Fuentes

To whom it may concern:

I, Daniel Sánchez Fuentes, Software Engineer in Expleo Group, Madrid, certify that I have supervised all of Alejandro Fraga Cimadevila's work for us. I am glad to recommend him, as he's a very resolute and dedicated worker. I remember laughing and being quite comfortable talking and working with him, as he's a very calm, confident and extroverted person.

His programming skills are very high in a wide range of languages. He loves to always learn new things and experiment. He is very clean, organized and meticulous in all of his work, as in his reference "Clean Code". Even while working and studying the Master at the same time, he managed to keep his production rate and motivation intact. He always gives his point of view, trying to find the best solution for each problem that we might encounter.

With that said, I am highly confident in my recommendation and believe that Alejandro would be a great fit for the vacancy. Video games are his dream and I know that he's been working hard to get an opportunity to enter the industry for a long time. If you would like to speak further about my experience working with Alejandro, please call me at (+34) 655 25 36 34.

Sincerely,

Daniel Sánchez Fuentes
